Tour The Coromandel, Bay of Plenty & Eastland

Explore the Mountainous and Volcanic Coromandel Peninsula with its white-sand beaches, the beautiful abundance of the Bay of Plenty and the excellent Chardonnay, magnificent beaches and history of Eastland.

Good for your soul

Enjoy freshly picked fruits of the region en route - mostly organic avocado, citrus, kiwifruit, nuts and other subtropical fruits - from roadside stalls. Experience a glass of light and elegant chardonnay at the end of the day, made with the region's principal grape variety, along with a taster board of the region's best cheeses. Or relish the finest Antipodean and Pacific Rim cuisine made with the seafood straight off the boat.

Navigate some of the most breathtaking coastal scenery in New Zealand on the Pacific Coast Highway, with the rugged beauty of the Coromandel and Kaimai ranges and distant islands dotting the horizon. Journey past rolling surf and idyllic harbours, through small, picturesque fishing villages, over myriad rivers and estuaries to the vast coastal plains and lush rainforests of the Bay of Plenty.

From the earliest canoes and settlements, and the establishment of some of the earliest European mission stations, to the felling of magnificent kauri forests, gum digging and the first frantic gold rushes, the history here is rich and varied.

You will be taken aback along Eastland's epic SH 35 - beautiful coastal scenery stretches out ahead as you encounter remote beaches, rocky headlands, marae, historic churches and pohutukawa trees. It's likely for much of this journey you will have the road to yourself. There is just one rule to keep in mind when travelling around the East Cape - take your time!

Gisborne is where Captain Cook made his first New Zealand landfall in 1769 and you can see exactly where he came to shore by following the Gisborne Historic Walk.
Seabird Coast

AWESOME BIRD-WATCHING

Shore birds by the thousands, award-winning fish & chips and rejuvenating hot mineral pools.

The Seabird Coast covers the western coast of the fifth largest island of New Zealand, the Coromandel Peninsula. It is world-renowned for its spectacular bird-watching, such as the great kōera (black heron) for a close-up look. Visit the Pukorokoro Miranda Shorebird Centre for more information.

The Seabird Coast is also known for its succulent seafood – the rich marine life here is a windfall for fishers and people can often be seen collecting seafood from rocky outcrops along the shoreline. Nestled in the Hauraki Gulf’s fishing grounds, the Seabird Coast has a safe family beach perfect for swimming, great kite surfing at the Pink Shop and award-winning fish and chips at Kaiaua Fisheries. Look away your troubles at Pukorokoro Miranda Hot Springs, the southern hemisphere’s largest natural hot mineral pool.

Coromandel Town

The colonial architecture of Coromandel township is reminiscent of times past. Following the discovery of gold at Driving Creek (initiating the first gold rush in New Zealand), this town boomed in the mid-1800s. These days the town’s art scene, picturesque location and tranquil vibe have all created a charming haven for nature-lovers and artisans alike, drawing visitors from far and wide. Boutique stores and galleries line the high street and the town is also home to some of the finest food producers. Sample a green-lipped mussel pasty at one of the local restaurants, or buy a bottle of fresh oysters or a parcel of smoked fish to dine alfresco at one of the many idyllic bays. Spend the morning visiting artists in their home studios, and tour the 118-year-old Driving Creek Gold Stamper Battery to pan for gold and learn more about the region’s geological history. Take a charter boat out to some of the smaller islands for sightseeing or fishing.

Driving Creek Railway & Pottery

Climb aboard for a fascinating one hour rail journey. Be inspired by the story of one man’s lifetime passion to create a railway through a regenerating forest of kauri, rimu and ferns. Your driver will relay the story of Barry Brickell and how this amazing place came to be, as your tram winds its way through tunnels and over large viaducts. Spy hidden gems along the way, unique pottery sculptures and artworks. Suitable for all ages. An all-weather activity.

The Coromandel Forest Park is home to the Kauranga Valley. True to its volcanic origins, this stunning valley has bush-clad hills, rocky outcrops, pinnacles, bluffs and gorges, as well as spectacular views. Call in at the Kauranga Valley Visitor Centre for information on the tracks.

The Pinnacles

One of the many historical walks in the valley, the Pinnacles walk traverses groves of nikau palms and huge rata trees. One of New Zealand’s most popular overnight walks, an 80-leaf DOC hut provides accommodation.

Caples Track

Cross the Kauranga River on the Tarawera swingbridge before passing through regenerating forest and along river flats. 45 minutes one way.

Billy Goat Landing Walk

This short walk offers good views of the Billygoat Basin cliffs and the 180m-high Billygoat Falls, as well as views of the historic Billygoat incline site.

EXPLORE THE 309 ROAD

Just outside Coromandel town is the popular one-hour narrow-gauge train ride that passes through kauri forests before ending at the Eyefull Tower, which true to its name, affords amazing views of the region. A working pottery complex is on site and the finished products can be purchased from the craft shop.

Colville & the top of the Peninsula

At Waitete Bay, two often-deserted beaches are perfect for swimming. The road then winds further inland, rising over the summit and offering unsurpassed views of the rugged, green valley before reaching the relaxed settlement of Colville. It’s a good place to check out local craftwork and have a well-deserved coffee. As the very tip of the peninsula is the Coromandel Coastal Walkway, a 7km track that takes 3-4hrs to walk one way and boasts remarkable views of the coastline and offshore islands.

The Coromandel Coastal Walkway, 309 Road, a scenic 22km-long gravel road that connects Whitianga and Coromandel Town, will easily keep you occupied all day. Along the route are Egyn Park, an area beside the Mahakirau Stream that’s perfect for a dip in the river, the Kauri Grove, a group of large kauri trees that can be accessed by a short walking track from the road, the Waiau Falls, an impressive waterfall with a swimming hole set in a peaceful glade, the two-hour return walk to Castle Rock, and The Waterworks, a quirky, water-powered theme park.

NEW CHUMS BEACH

This picturesque beach at Whangapoua boasts an estuary, white sand and rolling surf. A hidden gem in the true sense, New Chums Beach requires some local knowledge (there are no signposts) and a good pair of walking shoes to get to, but once you arrive you will see why it has been named one of the top beaches in the world.

KUAOTUNU

Whitianga & Surrounds

The Whitianga town centre is a relaxed haven with plenty to see and do. The palm-lined white-sand beach is just down the road and you can explore the area’s artistic offerings, such as bone carvings, and visit artists’ studios, while the kids will love interacting with animals at the farm park.

On the harbour side of the town centre, cruises, diving trips and glass-bottom boat adventures depart regularly. For a tropical island experience Coromandel-style, head to The Lost Spring in central Whitianga where you can relax in the stunning man-made lagoon and have a luxurious massage or body treatment. At the end of the day, dine out in style – Salt Restaurant and Bar, Poivre & Sel and Blue Ginger are all recommended. You can take a short ride on a passenger ferry from Whitianga to Ferry Landing where you can walk to Cooks Beach via Front Bay and Flaxmill Bay (this will take about 40 minutes each way), or alternatively catch a shuttle.

LIFE’S A BEACH

Hahei’s picture-perfect beach is flanked by rocky headlands and sheltered by Mahurangi Island, with bright blue water great for swimming, snorkelling and diving. Another drawcard is Te Whanganui-a-Hei (Cathedral Cove) Marine Reserve. Access to the majestic archway is by foot, boat or kayak. Life really is a beach in Whangamata - get set for sun, sand and surf! Idyllically located, Whangamata is a beach resort combining rainforest with a spectacular beach that boasts some of the best surf breaks, yet safest swimming, in New Zealand.

The nearby crescent-shaped Onemana and white-sand Opoutere beaches are two other glowing gems. Further south, Waihi Beach offers brilliant coastal walks and the 128ha headland reserve of Bowentown at its southern end harbouring secluded beaches and historic sites.

HOT WATER BEACH

Making waves on the seashore? Hot Water Beach, around 8km from Hahei, is one of New Zealand’s most fascinating and popular natural wonders. Here, for two hours either side of low tide during normal sea conditions, dig your own spa pool as water from hot springs seeps up through the sands. Take a spade to help with the digging, or hire one from the beachside shop. Surfers will love it for its renowned waves, but only strong swimmers should surf here as the currents can be dangerous.

THE COROMANDEL
Explore the beautiful abundance of Coastal Bay of Plenty. The attractions of this great curving coastline with its golden-sand beaches, varied wildlife and moderate climate are as evident today as they were when Captain Cook gave the region its name. Katikati’s immaculate gardens, acres of orchards, a winery and beautiful bush walks are all further reasons to spend time here. Soak in a thermal pool at Sapphire Springs, stroll around the Katikati Bird Gardens or wander around the town centre and admire the murals and open-air artwork, including original sculptures and detailed carvings. Follow the Haiku Pathway linked with boulders inscribed with poetry. Katikati’s prosperity owes a lot to horticulture, which you can sample at the Friday night markets held at the A & P Showgrounds.

JUNIPERINSPRINGS

THE PERFECT PLACE TO EXPLORE THE BAY OF PLENTY

The small seaside community of Maketu, you’ll find a family of pie makers. Maketu Pies are world-famous in New Zealand and the little township itself is as charming as it gets.

At the southern end of Tauranga Harbour, Mt Maunganui sits on a long peninsula with the magnificent ocean surf of Main Beach on one side and the sheltered tranquility of Pilot Bay on the other. A popular holiday spot for Kiwis, this relaxed resort town offers a perfect mix of outdoor activities, hot pools, a charming high street, fresh, local produce and an active art scene. Sample the farmers’ markets, delightful cafes and lively bars, where you can sample craft beers or the finest local wines.

Whakatane’s holiday ambassador has a lot to do with some of New Zealand’s most popular beaches situated right on its doorstep (not least of all Ohope Beach). It has varied offerings of cafes and restaurants and a water-flat found in the centre of town. One of the country’s oldest towns, Whakatane has a strong Maori heritage with Maori making up 40% of the population and its Maori language, is widely spoken. Look up to the skyline around Whakatane and you’ll see distinctive flat-topped hills, remnants of ancient pa (Maori hilltop fortifications).

Whakatane Walks

For a fabulous walk and an insight into Whakatane’s history, follow the Whakatane Heritage Trail. This will lead you past many historical sites, with information panels providing an explanation.

For amazing views, take either the Latham’s Hill Track, which gives impressive views of the Rangitaiki Plains, or the Pukepapa Lookout and Papaka Redoutt track for fine views of the town and the remains of a Maori fortification.
